

High performing, audio video connectivity delivered in plastic free packaging

Introducing Aura

Aura is the new name in Audio and Visual cables and connectivity and is brought to you by the team at Mayflex.

Aura brings a different approach to an established market and offers an extensive range of quality and high performing AV passive products all supplied in 100% single use plastic free packaging.

The product range initially includes; Coax Cables, AV Cables, HDMI Cables, HDMI Extenders, HDMI over IP, USB-C Adaptors, TV Brackets, Euro Modules and Wall Plates, AV Adaptors and Connectors.

Hear the difference

Aura audio cables and connectors ensure audible clarity of the highest standard, first time, every time.

See the difference

Aura display cables and connectors ensure visual resolution of the highest standard, first time, every time.

Feel the difference

Aura cables are produced with TPE jackets ensuring durable but highly flexible installation and user experience, first time, every time.

Plastic free packaging

Aura is different from the moment your delivery arrives. In an industry first we have removed all single use plastic packaging from all product, first delivery, every delivery.

Uncompromised quality

Aura products are designed for the professional installer, no corners are cut, not short cuts taken, just the highest quality cables and connectors, first time, every time.

Performance by design

Aura products are designed to provide best in class performance over extended lifetimes and in a range of environments, first time, every time.

100% Single Use Plastic Free Packaging

We really care about the environment and to this end all the Aura products are protected in packaging which is free from single use plastic and is made from materials which are 100% recyclable, a first for any AV vendor in the market today.

Our stylish and distinctive packaging not only protects the products, but each box is clearly labelled and, in many cases, includes photographs and highlights the key features of the products enclosed, so you know exactly what you're getting before you open the box.

By installing Aura for your AV requirements, we will save hundreds, thousands and eventually millions of single use plastic bags from entering the supply chain and ultimately going into landfill.

Saves Time

Our single use plastic free packaging not only helps the environment, it will also save you time on site – no more opening numerous plastic bags and disposing of them.

Several of our product ranges, for instance, HDMI Tails, keystones and Euro modules are even delivered as multipacks of 10 or 30 on a cardboard tray, made from 100% recycled cardboard. By using these multipacks, as well as helping the environment, you will save a considerable amount of time by not having to open individual single-use plastic bags.

Help the environment, install Aura for your AV requirements.
